

Murals...

Splashes of Hope transforms the bare walls of medical institutions into a comfortable, friendly, atmosphere. Our creations are designed to stimulate the healing process by giving patients a soothing visual focus during their hospital stay.

The artwork can be used as a therapeutic distraction technique in pain management. Murals are often placed on entrance doors and in elevator lobbies to facilitate way-finding and welcome patients.

Splashed walls of Rehabilitation Room & Elevator Lobby at The NYU Hospital For Joint Diseases

E-Mail: info@splashesofhope.org

Brings Art

To Hospitals

www.splashesofhope.org

About Us...

Splashes of Hope is a non-profit organization of mural artists who paint comforting scenes for patients in hospitals.

For over a decade, the Splashes of Hope murals have brought smiles and joy to thousands of children and their families in hospitals around the world.

Our artwork is embraced by people of all cultures, races and languages.

Southside/LIJ Hospital / Entrance

Phone: 631-424-8230 Fax: 631-424-0299

Splashing...

Heather Buggie,
Founder
Splashing
Jamaica Hospital
Pediatric Unit
Nurse's Station

Splashes of Hope staff artists, interns and volunteers work together to create the murals in designated areas of the health facility.

Upon completion of the project, Splashes of Hope coordinates an unveiling ceremony with everyone involved, including hospital staff, sponsors, artists and news media and press.

Frank Bandiero,
Staff Artist
Splashing
NYU Medical Center
Pediatric Radiology
Waiting room

Stephanie Condra,
Staff Artist
Splashing
New Mexico Children's Heart Center
Albuquerque, NM

P.O. BOX 537, Huntington, NY 11743

Splashes the Wall... Down The Hall. Up to the Sky... All around the world.